
The Main Screen, shown above, shows the YWD Dayplanner. There exists three sub-windows within the main screen:

- o Month Display - The system retrieves the current Month and Date from the system and defaults the month and date to the ones from the system.
- o Daily Display - There exists two sub-windows within the daily display. The left sub-window displays the time the user has appointments. The right sub-windows is a free-text display that display all the appointments the user has scheduled that date. The free-text window will default the display on the appointment that is coming up next (given the system time).
- o Overlay Display - The overlay shows the blocks of time the selected person or group has available. The user can add or select a group if necessary. The display defaults with only the user's schedule displayed for overlay.
